Safety messages for Texans of all ages

When it comes to the need for electrical safety, no one is exempt. That is why our Lifetime of Safety messages will cover Texans of all ages – from new parents, to school children, to homeowners, do-it-yourselfers, and seniors living alone – and for every season of the year.

Our featured tips this month highlight post-Holiday safety.

- Get a head start on safety for the next holiday season. Before storing your holiday light strings, check for damaged cords and plugs, and replace as needed.
- To avoid fire hazard, don't continue to light up a natural tree after branches and needles are dry.
- Be sure that any new electric-powered plug-in toys bear the seal of Underwriters Laboratories or another recognized certification specialist.
- Teach children not to carry electrical toys and products by the cord.
- For older children, teach the right way to unplug an electrical product by holding the plug – not the cord.
- For younger children, install childproof electric outlets in your home.
